

EDI Champion – Church

A Methodist Church EDI Officer is a voluntary role within a Methodist Church responsible for championing Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion (EDI) practices across all activities within that church, aiming to create a welcoming and inclusive environment for people of all backgrounds by raising awareness, providing training, and advising leadership on implementing EDI policies and initiatives aligned with Methodist values of justice, dignity, and solidarity.

You will:

- be the point of contact regarding EDI matters within the church.
- be familiar with the training and resources available from Methodism Connexion, District and Circuit.
- advise the Church Council on ways to make church more accessible.
- from the Access Survey, propose reasonable adjustments that would enable those with disabilities to be fully active within the church.
- share good news stories about EDI matters with Circuit and wider District.
- be part of the Circuit EDI forum (optional)
